1. Aircraft observed at Aspern (P 49/X 49) from 7:15 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on 19 March included: 26 MiG-15s; 4 single-engine low-wing monoplanes with wings in slight dihedral, two seats arranged in tandem, a plump fuselage, single rudder assembly, elevator assembly set in the middle of the rudder assembly, and two-bladed propellers; 2 biplanes; and 9 Pe-2s. There was no flying at the field in fair weather and an easterly wind of about 20 km/hour. Two MiG-15s crossed the field from east to west. There was no change in the status of the fuel dump West. Six AA guns with funnel-shaped muzzle were emplaced in the southwestern corner of the field. Maintenance work was being done on trucks parked near the garages by soldiers who wore black-bordered blue epaulets. Some small van-like trucks with hinged sideboards were observed.

the latter towing a trailer and all of them with drivers wearing black-bordered blue epaulets, hauled billeting equipment to the Stadlau (P 49/X 49) railroad station. Comment. The report indicates that there was no change in the occupation of Aspern airfield. [redacted] It is not clear where the bomber regiment moved. Only 24 Pe-2s were observed in Deutsch Wagram. According to unconfirmed information, Zweiflaxing airfield which was previously occupied by a bomber regiment was vacated in mid-March. [redacted] On 17 March 1953, 13 unidentified aircraft, probably conventional piston planes were seen on Wiener Neustadt airfield. Further information is needed to clarify the distribution of Soviet bomber units in Austria. The haulage of billeting equipment to the Altersheim in Gross Enzersdorf cannot be explained. It may possibly be connected with an intended reoccupation of the local airfield.
